Burns' Concert Was Outstanding Success

Local Artists Won Acclaim From Representative Pass Audience;
F. S. Duncanson Gave Address
On Robert Burns.

Coleman Clan Donnachaidh Society scored probably its greatest success among its many functions sponsored during the past two years on Friday night when a near capacity audience warmly applauded
the efforts of Coleman artists
taking part in the Burns' concert and dance. The function was sponsored by the Society to help build up its funds for the purchase of uniforms.

Mr. Frank R. Duncanson was the principal speaker, choosing as his subject "The Works of Burns." He traced the early history of the famous Scottish Bard and then quoted several of the poet's world-famous poems to show more clearly the character of Burns.

In addition to Mr. Duncanson who had arrived in Coleman only thirteen months ago and since that time has taken an active interest in community affairs there were other newcomers to Coleman who will prove valuable assets to the town's musical circles. Mrs. Wm.
Fraser, formerly of Carmanagay,
was heard in two songs and was so greatly applauded that she was brought back for another song. Mr.
and Mrs. John Owen were also given applause for their piano and violin selections this being their first appearance on a local public stage.

Due to his youthfulness, pleasing personality and talent young Billie Millan simply captivated the audience and he was, without a doubt, the most popular artist on the stage.

Miss Myrtle Johnston has grouped the young girls of the band plus one or two others into a choir and they were heard for the first time
on Friday night much to the delight of the audience.

Ten-year-old Danny Fraser was the youngest member appearing on the stage and his "Annie Laurie"
and "Blue Bells of Scotland" were so well received that the youngster walked with a happy smile off the stage.

Following are the artists:
Helen Wanst, solos, "Robin Adair" and "John Highlandman";
selections by the Pipe Band, "Cock
o' the North" and "Bonnie Dundee"; Girls' Chorus, "Road to the Isle" and "The Star of Robbie
Burns"; Juanita McDonald, "Flow
Gently Sweet Afton" and "Ye Banks and Braes"; Mrs. Robert Holmes, recitation, "The Pride o' Every Scot"; Mrs. Wm. Fraser,
"We Better Bide Awee" and "Com-

Coleman Crow View Rodeo Dates Set for Fri. and Sat., Aug. 1-2

Organization Meetings of Circuit Held at Macleod Sunday;
L. S. Richards Vice-President;
Jim Wilkie Director.

Southern Alberta Rodeo Circuit
was organized on Sunday with representatives from Coleman, Pin-
cher Creek, Macleod, High River, Nanton, Claresholm, and Cardston.
The purpose of the meeting was to arrange dates in sequence in order the contestants may enter the circuit stampedes, thereby making it more attractive particularly to those from distant points.
In addition to the usual day money awards, the circuit will put up a special purse of $2,000 for the top point winners in the circuit,
viz., $400 each for bronc riding, steer wrestling, roping and bareback riding. Thus the champion in each of these contests will receive $400, as well as other prize money
he may win.

The circuit is open for other southern Alberta rodeo associations to join if their dates fit in with the schedule arranged.

Herman Linder outlined the procedure to be followed, advising the meeting on the securing of steers which it proposed to bring in from Mexico, for use in all the circuit shows, and the engagement of grand-stand attractions.

Dates proposed and passed by the meeting were Nanton June 24-25; Claresholm June 27-28; Macleod
June 30-July 1; High River
July 2; Lethbridge July 3-4-5;
Cardston July 15-16; Pincher Creek
July 30; Coleman Aug. 1-2.

Executive appointments included the following:

Linder; president, Dan Boyle; vice-presidents, Allie Streeter, L. S.
Richards; secretary-treasurer, Jim Burke; directors, Frank Walshe, J.
W. Rutherford, Jim Wilkie, Dr.

Young Coleman Held Sway At Arena Saturday Night In Ice Frolic

Races, Games, Fancy Skating
and Refreshments Afford Real Evening of Pleasure.

Young Canada, several hundred strong, took over the skating arena last Saturday night in Coleman's first Ice Frolic in many years and really went to town with parade, races, games, etc. The affair was sponsored by Coleman Sports Association and with parents and youngsters the arena was well filled.

The frolic started with the Coleman Pipe Band playing a few selections, followed by the costume parade led by two youths carrying large flags. The costumes were varied and colorful and the smaller er tots in the parade immediately drew the support of the crowd.
However, the three Judges remained with their assignment judging the best costumes and large and small competitors were in on the prizes. Winners were: Girls: 1, Gloria Fraser; 2, Shirley Wood; 3, Clementine Celli. Boys: 1, Bill
Kerr; 2, Gordon Kerr; 3, Kent Foster.

Fancy Skating

Two members of the Bellevue
Fancy Skating Club gave an exhibition of fancy skating. Their performance was made quite difficult due to heavy ice which was scored quite heavily, Chinook winds previous to Saturday having prevented flooding of the ice surface. As it was, however, both Miss Iris Kaye and partner, Mr. William Harvey, gave a very creditable exhibition and were given warm applause.

Races for various ages were run off, the following being the winners, given in order, 1st, 2nd, 3rd:

Girls' Races

6 Years and under: Georgina Meseira, Pat Hughson, Sarah Kil-gannon.

CIVIC CENTRE

The need for such a project must primarily be determined in relation to our local requirements. The need for a centre which will provide a means for the release of youthful and adult energies and an opportunity for expression of public opinion is strikingly evident in Coleman.
There is abundant evidence throughout the world that where energies of youth and adults are not released in a constructive and progressive way they will be released in a destructive and retrogressive manner. So it is in Coleman as well as in other communities.

A community centre in Coleman
will provide a place for the release of these forces in the right direction. The youth of the district will find a place where he or she can grow and develop in a going democratic situation. Adults will find a place where their opinions will be formed on a broader basis
than is possible when association and sources of information are too few. Only by making democracy effective on the community level can it be effective as a national way of life.

The centre will not have a significance only as a local project but will have significance from a national point of view. Admittedly one centre here would have little effect in Canada but the movement is not localized to our district, the sum total effect in the develop-

Following the races refreshments were served to all the children. This was a long slow process and as a result the program was held up over an hour. Once the ice had been cleared the program continued.

In the p.e. eating contest winners were: Walter Tiberghien, Hector DeCocco, Jack Kerr, Helen Petrunik.

The broomball match resulted in a 2-2 score. This game provided much fun and was one of the featured novelty events.

The evening's fun was brought to a successful close as two girls' hockey teams battled before an appreciative crowd. The Grandis scored a 3-2 victory in one of the most closely contested matches played in the local arena (this year).

Chairman of this gala affair was
Mr. O. Bomben.

ment of Canadian culture can be very great. No country in the world has a better opportunity of developing an individual culture.
Centred even in our own locality are representatives of mass cultures of the world. To get together to know, understand and to assimilate into a Canadian culture the best of all these is our problem.

Even beyond the significance to the country we live in is the significance of the International picture.
Our editors, news commentators, authors public men in general are continually pointing out that the best hope of peace in the future is alert public thought. For example Sigrid Arne in his United Nations Primer has this to say:
"The hope is, as the assembly does air troubles and as the world press records and debates, the inherent sense of justice in people will demand needed reforms. This of course demands also that the world's newspaper readers give at least as much time to the front page news as they do to the sports pages. If they fail there is a much slimmer chance of staving off World War III. It is still lamentably true that the price of freedom is eternal vigilance and vigilance is of no caluses of the brain."
It is worth the expenditure in time and effort and money for us as a community to provide ourselves with the means for self-ex-

Everyman Theatre Plays To Enthusi- astic Audience

(F. R. D.)

Lovers of dramatics in Coleman were entertained on Saturday in the Community hall when the Everyman Theatre presented Oscar Wilde's three act comedy "The Importance of Being Earnest", before an enthusiastic audience. The play, sponsored by the Lions and Playgoers' club, is one of several which are being presented during the next few months by this company
on its tour of western Canada.

The story centred around John Worthing and dealt with the difficulties which he encountered as a result of adopting two names, one for the city and one for the country. The plot was amusing and the actors made the most of all touches
of humor in the script.

The outstanding success of the performance was due mostly to the fact that the players worked as a group, with no particular actor
"stealing the show." Each played his part admirably from the servant, Lane, to Lady Bracknell, and it was obvious that the director, Sidney Rask, had attached as much importance to the smallest role as to the largest. The play moved at a nice tempo, diction was excellent,
voices showed variety, costumes were typical of the period, the stage was well set and the grouping of the actors at all times artistic.

All may well look forward to March 21 when the Everyman Theatre will return to Coleman to present another play.

Jenkins And Bruning Undebeat- ed In Bonspiel

Reach Fours in Both Major Events; Pontiac Competition
to Start Next Week.

The fours were reached in the Bill Cole and Studebaker events on Sunday, as good progress was made from the 16's. It is now possible to make the draw for the consolation event, the Pontiac competition, since those reaching the fours in either the Cole or Studebaker are no longer eligible to enter the consolation.

McKay and Rinaldi finks which had been undefeated up until Sunday were unexpectedly dumped into the consolation event. McKay went out one, two, while Rinaldi was called upon to play four games, the first two he won, but the second two found him taking quite a shattering. Nunn, Excel also received set-backs but hung on grimly to enter the fours in at least one competition to share in the jewelry. Only George Jenkins and Bruning remain undefeated, both reaching the fours in two competitions.

Following are Sunday's results:

STUDEBAKER:

16's—Bruning beat Victor; J.
Jenkins beat Nunn; Beal beat Excel; Rinaldi beat McKay.

8's—G. Jenkins beat Meier; Hol-stead beat Rinaldi; J. Jenkins beat Beal; Bruning beat Duncan.

BILL COLE:

16's—Excel beat Gillespie; Dancey beat McKay; Ford beat Emmerson; Nunn beat Raymatters;
G. Jenkins beat Dow; Rinaldi beat Duncan.

8's—Bruning beat Amie; G.
Jenkins beat Rinaldi; Nunn beat Ford; Excel beat Duncan.

The Pontiac competition will get under way next Sunday and it is expected the two major events will be finished.

FOREIGN SECRETARY BEVIN TO SEEK REVISION OF THE ANGLO-RUSSIAN ALLIANCE

LONDON.—The foreign office reported that preliminary steps toward revision of the Anglo-Russian alliance, as suggested by Premier Josef Stalin, were "under active consideration" in London.

Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin "undoubtedly" will open personal negotiations on revision of the alliance when he goes to Moscow for the Big Four meeting on Germany in March, a foreign office spokesman said.

Stalin said that strengthening the treaty by the removal of unspecified "reservations" was necessary before the 20-year alliance could be extended to 50 years.

His suggestion was contained in a note to Bevin. The Russian generalissimo accepted Bevin's assurances that Britain still regarded the treaty as in effect, contrary to allegations that had emanated from Moscow.

Sir Maurice Drummond Petros, British ambassador to Moscow, was expected to ask the Kremlin just what "reservations" Stalin had in mind.

The treaty clauses Stalin wants changed were believed to be those covering Soviet-British relations in relation to other countries. The treaty was signed in May, 1942, when the war outcome was uncertain and the United Nations had not been organized.

Simultaneously with publication of the Bevin-Stalin notes, the Tass agency in Moscow reported authoritatively that Stalin had rejected an untimely Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery's suggestion for the Soviet-British exchange of "officer students".

Diplomatic circles believed Stalin wanted revisions of articles 3 and 4. Article 3 declares the Anglo-Soviet desire to unite with other like-minded states in adopting proposals for common action to preserve peace and resist aggression in the post-war period.

Article 4 refers to post-war military assistance in event of hostilities with Germany or her satellites. It states, "This article shall remain in force until the parties by mutual consent shall recognize that it is superseded by adoption of the proposals in article 3 of the treaty."

Since the treaty was signed, the United Nations has been established, pursuing the aims outlined in the generalized terms of article 3. Under its present terms, the treaty will run until 1962. An extension to 50 years would carry almost to the year 2,000.

REACHED HIGH ALTITUDE

LONDON.—A jet fighter plane reached an altitude of 51,200 feet in a routine experimental flight near Salisbury in what was believed to be a record altitude for jet planes. The plane was a Vampire fighter powered with a Rolls-Royce engine, and was piloted by Wing Commander John Baldwin.

Recent tests show that palladium has a tarnish resistance equal to platinum, its sister metal.

PRICE BOOSTS FOR MINERALS

OTTAWA.—Acknowledging "substantial increases" in production costs, together with reduced export quotas, the prices board announced large boosts in Canadian ceiling prices for copper, lead and zinc.

The revised ceiling for copper will be 61.625 cents a pound compared with 11.5 cents previously in force. Lead prices will jump from five to 10.63 cents a pound and zinc from 5.75 to 10.25 cents a pound for grade A electrolytic.

Prices for scrap metal of these products will advance in proportion. Simultaneously, the board announced the antimony prices will increase to 29½ cents a pound from 17½ cents, largely because of discontinued subsidies on this metal, most of which Canada must import.

GORDON EXPLAINS NEW SHOE PRICES

OTTAWA.—New 11 and nine per cent. increases in men's and women's shoes respectively do not apply at the inventory level, Donald Gordon, prices board chairman, said.

"These increases will apply only to new stock coming in from the manufacturer," Mr. Gordon said.

Under the order the retailer will have his ceiling on the manufacturer's price, or on a basic period retail price, whichever is the lower.

The board's order, announced recently, applies only to boots and shoes received from manufacturers after Jan. 20, when the order became effective.

CHURCHES ARE HOME FOR TWO MINISTERS

ARLINGTON, N.J.—Two pastors are about as close to their work here as one can get. They're living in their churches.

Unable to obtain other shelter because of the housing shortage, they have moved into apartments built in the churches in which they preach.

They are Rev. Frank Mistrup and his wife and four-year-old son, living in the Oakwood Avenue Baptist church; and Rev. William Restrick and his wife and their infant daughter, living in the Church of the Nazarene.

BOON TO TIED EARS

NEW YORK.—A rubber riveter with loads of power but no clatter has been offered as a boon to tired ears. A U.S. rubber company announced a hose of oil-resisting synthetic rubber reinforced with steel wire can carry hydraulic fluid under enough pressure to flatten a cold steel rivet into place with one powerful stroke.

BRITISH PEOPLE ARE BEING ASKED TO WORK HARDER

Government Says Position Of Country Serious

LONDON.—The government appealed to Britain's 20,000,000 working men and women—backbone of the government's support—to shoulder voluntarily the burden of industrial speedup as the only means of economic salvation.

Prime Minister Attlee's peace-time version of Winston Churchill's wartime call for "blood, toil, tears and sweat" was published as a white paper, on the eve of reopening of parliament.

"The position of Great Britain is extremely serious," said this document, addressed to employers as well as workers and issued with the admitted hope of becoming a "best seller" that will reach every executive office and assembly line in the country.

"The answer, first and last, is increased production," it said, after detailing three great dangers:

The threat of inflation on the home front, an export balance short of imports by $328,000,000 ($1,312,000,000) in 1946, and a grave manpower shortage with no relief in sight "for some years to come."

CAN RETAIN BACON MARKET WITH IMPROVED QUALITY

SASKATOON.—Canada need have no fear of meeting competition on the British bacon market if every effort was made to improve type and quality of breeding stock, George M. Huffman, of Aberdeen, president of the Saskatchewan Swine Breeders' association, told delegates to the annual meeting here. He said producers could also co-operate by marketing at right weight with proper finish.

TO REPLACE DONALD GORDON

K. W. Taylor will become head of the Wartime Prices and Trade board within the next four months, succeeding Donald Gordon, who will probably return to his post-war job of deputy-governor of the Bank of Canada. Mr. Taylor has been with the board since the start of its operations.

MUSICAL RIDE IS TO BE REVIVED

OTTAWA.—Commissioner S. T. Wood of the R.C.M.P. said the famous pre-war musical ride of Mountie horsemen at horse shows and other exhibitions would be revived as soon as the manpower problems of the force are solved.

Commissioner Wood thought at least a year would elapse before the flow of recruits—the force is nearing the 300-mark in its quest for 1,000 new men—would be enough to warrant re-opening of the riding schools. The ride has been seen by Ottawa, New York, San Francisco, Calgary and other audiences in the past.

SURPLUS REVENUE SIGHTED BY FEDERAL GOVERNMENT—FIRST IN SEVENTEEN YEARS

SPLENDID JOB DONE BY VETERAN SHIP

HALIFAX.—The big troopship Aquitania has brought the last major load of troops back to Canada and among them were veterans who hailed from here with the first contingent of the 1st Canadian division in 1939.

At that time Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, then a major-general with his eye on the possibilities of raising a full Canadian army, presented the Aquitania with the army's distinctive flag. She became the first troopship of the war to fly this flag from her masthead.

Maj.-Gen. Harry Foster, chief of the Atlantic command, presented the Aquitania with a bronze plaque as a tribute to a hazardous wartime job "well done." Gen. Foster recalled that the old trooper had carried more than 100,000 Canadians to war and back. The 33-year-old Aquitania won't wear her new honors for long. She is to make five more trips as a commercial transport and then be claimed by the breakers.

NEW ROAD PLAN

EDMONTON.—Detailed plans and specifications of what will be the largest single year's road construction program for Alberta, totaling $9,200,000, are being prepared by the department of public works, Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of the department, said.

OTTAWA.—The possibility of the federal government winding up the current fiscal year with a $150,000,000 to $200,000,000 surplus—the first since 1930—is foreseen by some federal officials here.

One official said that the finance department now is compiling the revenues and expenditures for the first nine months of the year which ends March 31, and there are indications that a sizeable surplus can be expected if nothing unforeseen happens within the next three months.

This would likely mean tax reductions in the next budget, but as is customary the size of the reduction will remain secret until Finance Minister Abbott brings the budget down in the commons, possibly some time in April.

For the first eight months a surplus of $202,461,643 was shown, with revenues set at $1,797,696,218 and expenditures at $1,595,237,575.

According to finance officials, the tax cuts Jan. 1, are estimated to cause a revenue drop during the first three months of 1947 of $25,000,000 in income tax receipts and $10,000,000 in corporation taxes. To this must be added $38,000,000 increase in cost of family allowances, or a net deduction of $73,000,000. Nevertheless, it is predicted that due to other expenditure reductions, the surplus will amount to a net $200,000,000 by March 31.

Collections of income taxes, corporation and excess profits taxes are now running over $100,000,000 a month.

Despite this highly favorable showing the government is extremely cautious in considering further tax reductions until all accounts are tabulated and possible 1947 increased demands sieved out. Increased payments proposed to the provinces under the tax transfer agreements now under negotiation may have the effect of absorbing a considerable amount of the surplus. And provision has to be made against some unexpected contingency such as a sudden decline in public buying faced with steadily rising cost of living.

Exports Of Dairy Produce Blamed For Shortages

WINNIPEG.—The National Dairy Council of Canada was told by President Robert C. Smellie that Canadians were short of butter and other dairy products largely because of huge quantities of cheese and evaporated milk exported to the United Kingdom and not because farmers, or the industry, were unable to produce what was needed here.

"Declining milk production has reached the stage where it has become a national problem of the most pressing type," he said.

The export trade in dairy products he described as important to Canada's economy, but said that it would be most difficult to continue exports on any large scale in the face of a decreasing over-all milk supply and the ever increasing demands of Canadians for dairy products.

There was also the question of how long Canadians would continue to accept a six-cent duty on butter and restrictions on usage of other dairy products.

Whipping cream substitutes were not on the market, frozen dessert preparations were taking the place of ice cream to a large extent and the use of butter was greatly curtailed.

"It would appear reasonable to assume that if present restrictions and controls are continued to the point where there is a decline in consumer purchasing power we may eventually have a great deal of difficulty in building up consumption to the levels which would have prevailed if it had not become necessary to impose such restrictions."

The decline in milk production was a matter of national concern to every Canadian, Mr. Smellie said. It had reached the point where a choice had to be made as to whether the industry was to be a purely domestic one or continue in the export field.

If the latter, Canada must find ways and means of encouraging farmers to produce more milk.

COLD IN GERMANY

HAMBURG, Germany.—Thirty-two people froze to death and 124 were treated for frostbite in hospitals here between Jan. 1 and Jan. 17, according to official British figures released.

CANADIAN WHEAT FARMERS HIT JACKPOT IN 1946 BY PRODUCING 420,700,000 BUSHEL

OTTAWA.—Canadian wheat farmers, blessed for the most part with good weather, hit the jackpot in 1946 by producing 420,700,000 bushels, eighth highest crop on record.

And, the Dominion bureau of statistics reported in its third estimate of field crops in Canada, the bumper harvest was valued at $480,215,000, believed to be the second highest in history.

Not since the big money, free-and-easy days of 1925 have Canadian farmers reaped such a windfall. In that year 395,475,000 bushels were produced and the crop, selling at an average of $1.23 a bushel, was valued at $487,736,000.

This year's crop compared with the long-term average of 310,021,000 bushels valued at $249,290,000 and with the 1945 output of 318,512,000 bushels valued at $367,467,000.

Only one year since the war started in 1939 has the current production been bettered. That was in 1942 when farmers went all out to speed wheat to Britain, producing 556,134,000 bushels valued at $385,133,000. Average price in that year was only 69 cents a bushel.

This year's total, however, is far below the bumper year of 1928, at least as far as production is concerned. During that time 566,726,000 bushels were harvested, but the average price was only 80 cents a bushel and this bumper crop was only valued at $451,235,000.

Despite the bumper crop, not all was No. 1 wheat and not all will be useable for human consumption. A percentage, just how much is not yet known, will have to be classified as feed—because of its poor quality—and deducted from Canada's food supplies.

Added to this is the fact that the Dominion ended the 1945-46 crop year with a carryover of some 70,000,000 bushels, one of the lowest on record and the lowest point to which she could go without being in a dangerous position as to domestic supplies.

The 1946 crop, plus the carryover, brings the total wheat supply to approximately 490,000,000 bushels, but from this will have to be deducted 175,000,000 bushels for domestic consumption and another 85,000,000 as a safe margin for the 1946-47 carryover.

That will leave some 230,000,000 bushels available for outside customers. Britain will take 160,000,000 bushels, leaving possibly 70,000,000 bushels. Canada has four commitments totalling some 50,000,000 bushels so a bare 25,000,000 to 30,000,000 bushels will be left for shipment to other customers.

Out production for all Canada this year was estimated at 400,000,000 bushels, barley at 159,000,000, rye 7,400,000 and flaxseed at 7,500,000.

Wheat production in Saskatchewan was estimated at 260,000,000 bushels. Alberta production was set at 137,000,000. Manitoba's production was 63,000,000 bushels.

This brought spring wheat production to 400,000,000 bushels compared with 264,600,000 in 1945.

Prairie production of oats was estimated at 276,000,000 bushels, barley at 145,000,000, rye at 5,915,000 and flaxseed at 7,285,000.

Wm. Ritson-Bennett Speaks To Lions On Swimming Pools

Two Films Shown On Boating And Life Saving; Counsellors And Board of Trade Members Present.

W. M. Ritson-Bennett, provincial director of swimming and water safety of the Alberta division of the Canadian Red Cross, addressed the Lions and guests at a regular supper-meeting on Monday night. Guests present were members of the board of trade, town council and high school.

Prior to the main address Lion Sid Short was presented with his Past President's button and 100 per cent attendance button and Lion Chris Rogers with his 100 per cent attendance button by Lion Percy Dickieson.

Dr. A. L. Goodman became an official member of the Lion family, his button being presented to him on behalf of the club by Lion Sid Short. Lion Dr. Hope Gill introduced the new member.

Mr. Ritson-Bennett upon starting his address intimated that he was speaking of the Crows Nest Pass as a whole and that a survey of the population revealed that approximately 6,200 persons resided in the Pass, a number which certainly could not afford to support two swimming pools.

He listed 9 reasons why a proper swimming pool should be constructed, they being 1. health and exercise, 2. safety, 3. recreation, 4. War Memorial, 5. business builder, 6. ex-servicemen, 7. community centre, 8. weld community together, 9. military training. He explained each point at some length to give strength to his argument.

The cost of a pool today was approximately 60 per cent more than pre-war. He stated that all plans for swimming pools today had first to be submitted to the department of public health for its approval.

He advocated the construction of a wading or paddling pool such as the Lions propose to build this year in Coleman.

Such a pool, he stated, accustomed the children to water and helped bring them forward to the time when they would be ready to try their skill in a proper swimming pool.

Statistics showed 1,000 drownings annually in Canada with the figure creeping upwards. There were 2,000 accidents on the highways and 1,500 accidents in the home.

In the near future the Alberta branch of the Canadian Red Cross would supply all Alberta hospitals with blood plasma. The national body had already established fifty outpost hospitals and nursing stations on the frontiers of the Dominion and planned on extending this number to 100 to form a great life-saving, health conserving chain across the remote areas of the north.

In addition the Red Cross planned to locate sick room cupboards in all major communities and they would be available to those who need them.

Concluding his address before the screening of two films on boating with safety and life saving, he advised his listeners before launching out on a swimming pool project to check and double check their plans and once they had been definitely approved to follow the project through to a successful conclusion.

Okotoks Here Saturday In Provincial Play-Off

Home and Home Game Series
With Total Goals to Count;
Face-off at 9:15 p.m.

Grands will get down to serious business on Saturday night at 9:15 when they oppose Okotoks Oilers in the first of a home and home total goals to count series in the first round of the provincial intermediate playoffs. The second game will be played at Okotoks during the week.

Oilers finished second in the Foothills League, losing three games, two of them to Grands. Grands have been undefeated all year.

Intermediate hockey has shown considerable improvement this year, possible the result of city players unable to just quite make senior ranks lining up with intermediate ranks. Since the cities are getting the senior and junior playoffs in their front yards a movement was afoot this year to have the intermediate finals played in the smaller centres providing ice was available.

Should Grands come through as expected it can be taken for granted that the Grands' executive will do everything in its power to give Pass hockey fans a provincial intermediate hockey final.

Canadian Universities Planning To Spend Millions On Buildings

TORONTO.—Canadian universities plan to spend $300,000,000 on new buildings in the next 10 years.

Blue prints already drawn could build $50,000,000 worth in the same period, a coast-to-coast check revealed, but the extra $250,000,000 is lacking.

Emphasis everywhere is on the sciences. Extensions to science faculties and whole new buildings, highlighted by McGill's proposed cyclotron and radiation laboratory, reflect a countryside desire to remain abreast of latest developments in their fields.

McGill in Montreal has a $9,114,000 program on the books, of which $5,741,150 already is under way.

University of Toronto, whose long-range plans envisage creation of a city within the city, with 11 new buildings projected, besides alterations to existing 60 concrete second with a budget of $7,700,000.

McMaster University in Hamilton and the University of Alberta in Edmonton each plan outlays of $5,000,000, while the Government of British Columbia has voted a similar amount for new construction at the University of B.C.

For construction of its new medical school and main building, Ottawa University will spend $1,500,000. Proposed extensions and alterations at Queen's in Kingston, topped by the building of $750,000 McLaughlin hall for the Faculty of Mechanical Engineering, come to $1,285,000. University of New Brunswick's budget of $570,000 is also topped by plans for a new science building, at $350,000.

McGill authorities were encouraged to embark upon their program by the speed with which their $7,000,000 endowment was raised.

Chief items are a $1,500,000 extension to the Redpath Library, a new $1,395,850 mining and geology building and a $1,108,200 extension to Royal Victoria College, the university's women's residences. Included in the scheme are a $416,000 addition to the gymnasium, intended as a war memorial, and a $608,000 rink-auditorium adjacent to the gymnasium.

McGill is also spending $88,000 in improvements to the library at Macdonald College, its Agricultural Faculty at Ste. Anne de Bellevue, Que.

Immortal Hymn Was Suggested By Sunset

How the hymn "Abide With Me," which is to be filmed this year in England, came to be written by its composer, the Rev. Henry Francis Lyte, is recalled by the London Daily Herald. The clergyman, Vicar of Brighthelm, Devonshire, died of tuberculosis in 1847. It was after preaching his last sermon at sunset that he was inspired to write the hymn destined to become immortal. The text of this sermon had the disciples' words to Christ on the road to Emmaus: "Abide with us, for it is evening, and the day is far spent."

Health LEAGUE of CANADA presents TOPICS of VITAL INTEREST

IODINE LACK CAUSES GOITRE

Despite the fact that lack of iodine causes simple, or endemic, goitre, and despite the fact that iodized salt is the most practical method for supplying iodine, only one-half the salt used in Ontario last year was iodized. Dr. E. W. McHenry said in a lecture in Toronto recently.

Dr. McHenry, Professor of Public Health Nutrition, School of Hygiene, University of Toronto, was speaking at one of a series of nutrition lectures arranged by the Toronto Branch of the Health League. He said that goitre is a nutritional disease which is being badly overlooked.

He added that it is known that it is not possible for most people in Canada to obtain sufficient iodine from customary supplies of food and drinking water. Therefore, limiting the sale of table salt so that only iodized salt could be purchased would be highly desirable.

Iodized salt was compulsory in all army and air force establishments in Canada during most of the war, he said, but "no one seems to care about civilians. So far as iodine and the prevention of goitre are concerned, civilians are left to their own resources."

Dr. McHenry said that nutritional conditions in Canada are sufficiently good that only one deficiency disease, goitre, occurs with any frequency among adults. Rickets and scurvy were occasionally found in babies, but diseases caused by faulty nutrition which have plagued other countries, like beri-beri and pellagra, are non-existent in Canada.

He said sufficient quantities of different foods are available in Canada to provide every Canadian with nutrients needed for health, but there is evidence that the food habits of many need to be improved and that the available foods are not being properly used.

"Ignorance and indifference," he said, are the two main causes for malnutrition in Canada. As for overweight, Dr. McHenry said he includes obesity under malnutrition.

Doctor Started Fad

Baltimore Man's Idea Of Going Hatless Soon Becomes Popular

Baltimore called Thomas Shearer "the happy doctor." He was always helping people by dispensing good humor as well as by doctoring.

But Baltimore buzzed when Dr. Shearer, in 1907, decided to go hatless. His theory: Air, moving freely through the hair, would benefit the scalp.

The startled nation debated. Hatless men were a rare sight those days, even in summer. And in winter?

"He'll die of galloping consumption," friends predicted darkly. But Shearer persisted. Whether from his influence, as claimed, or not, the hatless fad reached its peak in the collegiate racoon-coat era of the '20s.

All around the country men and women timidly emerged bareheaded, and liked it fine.

Dr. Shearer, hatless to the last, died last December at the age of 87.—Pathfinder.

Value Of Man's Labor

If Placed Too High Will Result In Decrease Of Work

The value of any man's labor, says Paul Hunter, in Liberty Magazine, is determined in the last analysis by what the ultimate consumer is willing to pay for the product of that labor.

This is an unalterable truth. If a man demands more for his labor than it is worth, he soon runs out of work to do. If he is employed, his employer is forced to raise the price of the product he makes. If buyers won't pay, the employer soon has no business and the workman no job.

The higher wage scale does him no good if his job is there rendered nonexistent. A business can keep going only if it produces its product at a saleable price.

Hope New Scheme Will Link Schools

A Nurseries of Friendship scheme to link English schools with schools in Belgium, and to put individual children in the two countries in touch with one another, is announced by Britain's Ministry of Education. Its purpose is to improve Anglo-Belgian relations by the exchange of correspondence and by pairing schools of similar interests and background, with a view to the interchange of pupils and holiday visits, reports Empire Digest. A similar scheme between France and Britain was started in November last. Fifteen thousand children in English schools are now corresponding with a similar number of French children and 250 schools in Britain have been directly linked with schools in France.

SHOULD BE REGULAR

Meals at any old hour just won't do, declare health authorities at Ottawa. It's not only what but when you eat that counts. The doctors say that meals should be at convenient and reasonable hours. The digestive tract functions better, like other parts of the body, if placed on a regular schedule.

More Canned Salmon On Canadian Market

Even if connoisseurs of canned salmon can't always get enough of it, more of that British Columbia specialty is going to Canadians now than at any time in the last six years.

Twenty-four million pounds of the delectable red-fleshed food has been flowing eastward from the West Coast canneries in the last few months, and, though it may seem scarce on the grocery shelves, it actually is appearing in its greatest abundance since 1938.

So when word got around that a can of salmon couldn't be found for the Canadian exhibit for the Australian Royal Easter Show, Government officials were understandably puzzled.

The fact is, they say, that the Canadian market this year is receiving what amounts to almost a normal supply of the tinned product for the first time since pre-war days.

From the 1946 pack, 500,000 cases of 48 pounds each have been allocated to the Canadian domestic trade, and already at least one-third of this amount has moved eastward. This is 200,000 cases more than the Canadian quota from the 1945 pack and compares, for instance, with such a lean year as 1942 when Britain took the whole Canadian output.

GLAMOR IS FOUND

IN NEWSPAPER ADS

The New Yorker says: There is a quality in advertising, quite aside from the way it pays the bills, which seems peculiarly to complement reading matter; a certain extravagance of phrase, an unreality, a rhinestone brilliance, an unwieldiness, and a promise. The ads are the reader's dream life, the reading matter is his waking hour. We suspect he loves them both. After a column of pure thought, a half page of crunchy goodness, after a hard editorial, a brand new helicopter, easy to own and operate.

Cedar birds will line up on a limb and pass a piece of fruit, or a worm, back and forth.

OUR COMPLETE
SHORT STORY—

THE FEMALE OF THE SPECIES

By MARY L. AKSIM

Copyright Wheeler Newspaper Syndicate

TAD was the last to give up. Long after Butch and Lanky had eased themselves into the comfortable positions possible for six-foot sergeants on a double train seat and had begun to doze, Tad kept beaming across the aisle at the beautiful corporal, clearing his throat with provocative meaning, raising his eyebrows in a manner called irresistible by women of two continents.

After a few minutes he sorted his long legs out from those of his sleeping companions and strolled with admirable nonchalance to the water tap. He could feel the pretty corporal watching him as he swung easily between the rows of seats. Well, it was a good hack, he smiled to himself. What was it that little French girl had said?

He looked sideways at the girl as he came opposite again, but she was looking out of the window oblivious to all his manoeuvres; and Butch and Lanky had each appropriated a full half of the double seat and were sleeping innocently. For a moment Tad considered offering to lift the corporal's suitcase from the seat beside her to the baggage rail overhead, but when she still gave no sign that she knew of his existence, he sighed loudly and moved in with a withered old lady in the seat ahead. He looked back once more, with no result; he sank down at last as he could, jammed his knees into the plush, and presently, he, too, slept.

The train stopped with a terrific jolt and shudder. Tad sat up and glanced back at Butch and Lanky, but they didn't even move. It was then that he noticed that the corporal was tugging at her suitcase and giving every evidence of getting off at this station. Sergeant Barclay gave him the opportunity and acted with that decision and dispatch which had been the delight of his superiors on the battlefield. In one movement he had grasped the handle of the suitcase and was leading the way down the aisle. The corporal followed meekly as he descended the steps to the platform. And then the sergeant made one of his most brilliant decisions.

"I think," said Tad, improving his best to make it sound impersonal, "I think I'll just wait for the next train."

If the corporal was surprised she didn't show it. She smiled and led the way along the platform.

For a moment Tad couldn't believe his eyes when he saw those thin pin-ups waiting in the jeep. They were almost identical, with long-lashed blue eyes and hair of shining gilt. He sighed a long sigh of utter contentment and climbed into the jeep after the corporal. Great, wide, wonderful world of women!

The jeep turned through the gates of a huge enclosed area. A whistle blew shrilly, and, in an instant, long columns of red, green, blue, yellow and gold uniforms were converging upon a gold figure standing solitary and splendid on the parade square in the bright sunlight. Tad's heart was whirling madly. Where had all these wonderful, wonderful women come from? Probably not another man in the whole camp. One-two, one-two, left-right, left-right, heard the drum, and the platoons started down the field, their coloured uniforms dazzling in the sunlight. Six abreast down the centre, then three-by-three around the square. Tad felt himself growing weaker as the columns of perfume pulchritude came closer, ever closer. Left-right, left-right, beat the dainty feet as they pivoted to position and then someone shouted "Halt!" and the feet and the drums were still.

The corporal turned to Tad as a figure mounted a reviewing-stand. "Come," she said, and Tad followed without a word.

"You see before you," the Commanding Officer said to Tad, "a new type of army. An army composed entirely of women. In the future we hope that the defence of our country will be entrusted wholly to us. And you, sir, will be able to help us in this great undertaking. We are in need of the services of one man to help us bring to conclusion a series of experiments we have been conducting. We need YOU," and she smiled at Tad, a smile that came on like an electric light, and dimmed just as quickly.

"But-but-but," Tad began. The C.O. led the way into a building marked "EXPERIMENTS." "In this department," she said, "we are on the verge of the greatest discovery in the history of man!" She looked at Tad to be sure that he was taking in the full import of her words. "We have discovered a means of transferring the bearing of the young to the male!" she exclaimed. "Now all we need is a . . ." but Tad didn't wait to hear the rest of the sentence. He was running as he had never run before, out of the EXPERIMENTS building, past the parade square, along the road, on to the gates.

There was a great roar of pursuit behind him. Women called his name in tones now pleading, now shrill. There was the sound of many feet—and then the air above him was filled with tiny one-seater planes, each piloted by a blonde pilot, who bombarded him with small sachets or silver arrows, but he stumbled on frenziedly and when he reached the station all his pursuers had dropped away. To his unspeakable relief a train was putting to be off and Tad struggled aboard and fell down into the first vacant seat.

He was brought sharply to by a poke from an umbrella. He sat up, wry, uncomprehending.

"My goodness!" snapped the lady beside him. "Stop thrashing about! And I'm sick to death of hearing you mumble in your sleep!" She snatched Tad looked back at Butch and Lanky. Still asleep. Then he stole a glance at the beautiful corporal. She was actually preparing to get off the train and from the safe refuge of imminent departure she flashed Tad a smile and looked with meaning at her suitcase. But Tad covered his face with a magazine and pretended not to see her.

Sets Milk Record

Ontario Farmer Reports Outstanding Production Of Purchased Guernsey

Glenshaw Shirley, a purebred Guernsey cow owned by R. R. Sutton, of Agincourt, near Toronto, has just completed an outstanding record of production.

Milked twice a day for 305 days under ordinary farm conditions, she produced 13,472 pounds of milk and 657 pounds of butterfat, totalling 4.89 per cent.

This is the highest official Canadian 305-day record ever made in twice a day milking in any age class by a Guernsey cow.

AUSTRALIAN WOMEN GROW RICE CROP

LEETON, Australia.—Two sisters who have managed a mixed 525-acre farm in this New South Wales district for 25 years have proved that women can succeed at rice farming in Australia.

They are Margaret and Lois Grant whose father, Donald Grant, celebrated his 101st birthday last year.

The Grant property grows rice, oats, fruit and vegetables and in 1929 won the first prize ever given for an Australian rice crop. It was one of the first of six farms in the district to grow rice well, and Mr. Grant and Miss Margaret Grant sold the crop in Melbourne for £15 ($45) a ton.

The Grant home is a comfortable English, style bungalow which the sisters designed themselves. Around the lounge-room walls are rare Chinese prints which have been in the family for several hundred years. Doulton china, early pewter mugs and other family treasures from England are along the mantelpiece.

Mr. Grant came to Australia in 1865 after receiving a grant from the Duke of Sutherland for military service. He worked for nine years on a station of 300,000 sheep in the Riverina district of southern New South Wales, and became station manager. His two daughters were born there, and the family went to the Leeton district in 1912.

At that time rice had not been established in the Leeton irrigation area, so Margaret and Lois decided to run the farm as partners and plant 16 acres of rice in addition to their other crops.

Lois Grant, the younger sister, manages the finance and accounts of the farm, Margaret supervises the farm work.

Revival Of Christianity Spreading In Japan

TOKYO.—A revival of Christianity is spreading like "a flame of fire" through Japan, Dr. Toyohiko Kagawa, Nipponese evangelist, claimed.

"Since June of last year we have had 20,000 converts to the Christian faith," Kagawa said. "It's a spiritual revolution among the Japanese, particularly those in the country districts."

Kagawa's recent status as an "undesirable because of activities during the war" still is under investigation.

He declared that at least 1,000 foreign missionaries were needed in Japan to lead the 2,000 Japanese Christians and 400,000 Japanese Protestants and 150,000 Catholics, he said.

Japan is fortunate in having "prayerful" MacArthur as supreme commander for the Allied powers, who is an honest Christian whose prayer is finding a way into the hearts of the Japanese people," Kagawa declared.

The mother and daughter were huffy with the plans for the wedding when the bridegroom-to-be called. He watched the preparations rather impatiently a while, until his future wife noticed his look of annoyance.

"Darling, we have such a lot to do," she soothed, "and if we want to make our wedding a big success we mustn't forget the most insignificant detail!"

"Oh, don't worry about that," murmured the young man. "I'll be there all right."

The new Land Girl was doing her best, but she was evidently finding everything on the farm very strange.

Having an incubator explained to her, and been asked if she fully understood it, she put her head on one side and, with a puzzled look, replied:

"Yes, but where does the hen sit?"

"Tommy," asked his stinky uncle, "how would you feel if I were to give you a penny?"

"I think," replied Tommy,

"that I would feel a little faint at first, but I'd try and get over it."

"Are you an expert accountant?" asked the prospective employer.

"Yes, sir," said the applicant.

"Your written references seem all right, but tell me more about yourself."

"Well, my wife kept a household account for 20 days. One night after dinner I sat down and in less than an hour found out how much we owed our grocer."

"Hang up your hat and coat," directed the employer. The job's yours."

A suburbanite had started keeping chickens because he likes more than one egg a week. The other day his neighbor said: "Oh! Your chickens are coming into my garden."

"I thought something like that must be happening."

"What makes you think so?"

"One goes away every now and again—and never comes back."

Judge: Did you see the shot that was fired?

Witness: No, I only heard it.

Judge: That is not sufficient evidence. You may retire.

As the witness left the stand and while his back was turned to the judge he laughed out loud. At once the judge recalled him for contempt of court.

Witness: Did you see the laugh?

Judge: No, but I heard you.

Witness: Insufficient evidence, your Honor.

When man is born, people ask: "How is the mother?" When he marries, they say: "What a beautiful bride!" When he dies, they ask: How much did he leave her?"

The magistrate peered through his spectacles at the scared little man before him.

"You allege that your wife assaulted you?" he said. "Tell us exactly what she did."

"Well, sir, she hit me with an oak leaf."

"But surely that didn't hurt you?"

"You bet it did. It was an oak leaf from the dining-room table!"
